

RFA Bank of Canada (referred to as “RFA”, “us”, “our” throughout) has developed a complaints procedure that will help us quickly and effectively address any complaints you may have.

The potential outcomes when dealing with a complaint are:

- Resolved: RFA can deal with a complaint by resolving it to your satisfaction; or
- Closed: RFA can deal with a complaint by closing it if we are unable to Resolve the complaint to your satisfaction.

The following procedure outlines the steps you are encouraged to take when you wish to make a complaint.

Step 1: Talk to Us

Speak to the representative of the business group where your complaint originated. If your concerns are not resolved, ask to speak to the manager or team leader of the business group. They will have the authority to resolve most problems immediately. You can contact us via phone, email, or mail. For specific contact information, please visit rfa.ca/CustomerService. Please note we do not recommend sending personal information via email.

Step 2: Escalate to the Complaints Department

If RFA is unable to Resolve or Close your complaint within 14 calendar days from the date on which it was first received, your complaint will be escalated to our Complaints Department. You can contact the Complaints Department as follows:
